Reports To
Executive Leadership

Overview
The VP, Performance Marketing will be our senior marketing leader and will own customer acquisition and paid growth. Reporting to executive leadership, this position will shape the company's approach to growth investment, determining where and how to deploy resources to drive sustainable customer acquisition.

You will own growth strategy and execution across a portfolio of consumer brands, combining strategic leadership with hands-on campaign development, optimization and performance management.The early months focus on diagnosis, planning and laying the right foundations so every investment is set up to perform.

This is a hands-on leadership role. You will own each brand's growth strategy end to end, from setting direction to launching and optimizing campaigns yourself. We're looking for someone entrepreneurial and creative who takes full ownership, makes every dollar work hard and is ready to pivot when the data says so.

Oversight And Responsibilities

- Multi-Brand Growth Strategy
    - Assess each of the brands' current position, customer base, unit economics and historical spend performance to establish a clear baseline.
    - Build a customized growth strategy for each brand that balances short-term revenue needs with long-term customer and brand-building gains.
    - Develop an investment prioritization framework across the portfolio, balancing growth opportunities, efficiency and long-term commercial objectives.
    - Partner with the executive team to translate company commercial objectives into acquisition targets, budgets and KPIs.
    - Present the growth plan and regular updates to the executive team for alignment and sign-off.

- Budget Ownership and Allocation
    - Own the paid acquisition budget across all brands and channels, and be accountable for its return.
    - Allocate budget deliberately, using a test-and-learn approach to find efficient channels before scaling.
    - Continuously monitor and reallocate spend based on performance, moving quickly from what isn't working to what is.
    - Bring creative, low-cost growth ideas, such as partnerships, affiliates, referral programs, organic social, SEO and owned channels, to stretch every dollar.

- Performance Marketing Execution
    - Lead, and be hands-on in, paid social, paid search, programmatic, affiliate, direct mail, SEO and other acquisition channels.
    - Plan, launch and optimize data-driven campaigns, using A/B testing and rapid iteration to improve results.
    - Drive improvement in key metrics including CAC, LTV, LTV:CAC, ROAS, conversion rate and payback period.
    - Partner on customer retention and lifetime value initiatives, ensuring acquisition strategies attract high-quality customers who drive repeat revenue.
    - Work with creative resources, in-house or freelance, to produce performance-ready assets for each brand.

- Measurement and Analytics
    - Evaluate and strengthen tracking, attribution and reporting capabilities to ensure investment decisions are grounded in reliable performance data.
    - Define a consistent set of KPIs and a reporting cadence that works across the portfolio.
    - Turn performance data into clear, actionable recommendations for the CEO and leadership team.

- Agency, Partner and Vendor Management
    - Build and manage relationships with select external partners, specialists and tools that extend the team's capabilities, ensuring each delivers clear value within budget.
    - Determine the right mix of in-house and partner execution for each channel, and hold partners accountable for results.
    - Assess new technologies and tools that improve acquisition efficiency.

- Team Building and Cross-Functional Leadership
    - Shape and build the performance marketing function as the business scales.
    - Collaborate closely with Ecommerce, Product, Operations, Finance and Brand to ensure cohesive execution, from offer and inventory to site conversion.
    - Serve as a senior strategic partner on growth and customer acquisition.

Experience Required:

- 7+ years of recent experience in performance marketing, growth or customer acquisition, including 3+ years in a senior leadership role owning a paid acquisition budget.
- Proven track record in DTC ecommerce, with subscription or repeat-purchase experience strongly preferred.
- Hands-on expertise across paid social, paid search, programmatic, affiliate, SEO and emerging channels.

- Experience setting up tracking, attribution and reporting from the ground up.
- Demonstrated success driving efficient growth in an entrepreneurial, fast-moving environment such as a startup or high-growth brand.
- Proven ability to work cross-functionally to build growth strategies grounded in data and financial rigor, partnering with Data/Analytics on insights and measurement, Finance on budgets and return targets, and Operations on inventory levels and planning.
- Experience managing agencies and external partners.
- Strong analytical skills and comfort with data, dashboards and marketing tools.
- Exceptional communication and presentation skills, including with senior executives.
- Bachelor's degree in Marketing, Business or a related field; MBA preferred.
