I found out about the opening from the website, as I was looking for a list of restaurants near me that are on your service.

I have been working with Rails for a few years now. Indeed, I have code in rails core, am an avid user of rspec and PostgreSQL on AWS.

I also am a big fan of test first development. My main rails experience is a cleanroom implementation of Facebook for our investees, at Jackson Street Capital, complete with user accounts, an equivalent to Facebook's "wall", automatic birthday posts, multiple tenants, and seamless upgrades. I've also been able to keep up with the latest rails from version 4 to 7 and deploy in one command onto Heroku.

Since Heroku's gotten a tad costly, were I to use it today, I'd put it on AWS directly.

If this is of any interest, schedule a call with me at <https://units.d8u.us/schedule> and let's talk? – H
